INDIAN BOYS DIE IN SCHOOL FIRE

Thirteen Inmates Lost When Dormitory at Muskogee Burns.

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Jan. 12.—Thirteen Indian boys were burned to death early this morning in a fire which destroyed the boys' dormitory of the Dwight Indian Training school at Marble City, Okla., forty miles south-east of here. The origin of the fire is unknown. Over 100 boys scantily clad escaped in the cold.

MADISON WAS STUNG.
Madison Alling, nature student, poked a wasp nest with a stick to see if the wasps had survived the frost. This was Saturday at the farm of a friend near Bloomfield.

The friend found him out of breath a half mile from the scene of the inquiry. "They still survive," said the student of nature, "and so, thanks to my speed, do I"—Exchange.

Baker Is Given a Grilling

Senators Submit War Secretary to Sharp Questioning.

"TOO MUCH DELAY"

Committeemen Declare There Is No Head to Department—Men at Sea.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Secretary Baker came in for more sharp cross-examination today at the hands of the senate military committee conducting the war inquiry.

The committee demands to know what had been done about 1200 Lewis machine guns held in storage while cannoneers and camps need them for practice.

Secretary Baker promised that they immediately would be distributed and Senator Weeks observed that the distribution had been delayed a month.

"That is the essence of this whole thing," said Senator Weeks. "There is delay, too much delay. Things that should be done at once are delayed when every day counts against us."

"Mr. Secretary," Chairman Chamberlain broke in, "your general statements of conditions are all calculated to leave the impression that all these matters are really in good shape. The senator cited reports of clothing shortages at Camp Sherman and added:

"Can feel secure.

"The effect on the country of your statements is to lull it into a feeling of security that everything has been done that should have been done. I don't think it has."

"I think the country is entitled to feel secure," Mr. Baker replied earnestly. "When the facts are known the country will feel secure."

Senator Hitchcock, another Democratic member of the committee, said, "But Mr. Secretary we have specific testimony of exact clothing shortages, while your testimony seems to contradict them completely."

Thinks "Everything Lovely."

Mr. Baker said the shortages cited might be of final and not initial equipment.

"I agree with the chairman," continued Senator Hitchcock, "that you seem to have the impression that everything is lovely, that there are no shortages and that these reports are unjustified."

"Quite the contrary," Mr. Baker answered. "I want to give the picture as it is. There was a shortage of overcoat and other clothing. But I think the figures of shortages you have were at the climax of the shortages. I think the country ought to have the knowledge that since those discouraging days supplies have been very much increased. Conditions are not perfect, of course."

Re-Assures the Country.

"The fault is not," the chairman replied, "is that if congress and the people get the impression which your general statements give that everything is all right they will believe that no legislation to correct the department's system is necessary and from former testimony I think it is necessary."

"But I must insist," said Mr. Baker, "that the country is entitled to re-assurance."

Mr. Baker cited instances of shortage early in December and how supplies have been increased during the month. Mistakes in distribution and also in furnishing correct sizes, he contended, also contributed to shortages.

WILL BE ONE OF M'ADOO'S AIDS

Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania Lines, represents all lines east of Chicago, north of the Ohio and Potomac, excluding New England.

Baker replied that all hospitals had been built on plans recommended by Surgeon-General Gorgas.

DOUG. FAIRBANKS

Starts a Four Days' Run at the Alhambra Tomorrow.

Magnificent views of the canyon are shown in the film. It is generally known among expert photographers that the Grand Canyon is a poor photographic subject, due to its pronounced yellows and reds, but the Fairbanks photographic staff carried with them mysterious boxes of scientific accessories, determined to be the first to show the canyon in all its splendor to the motion picture public.

"It was tedious work among the clouds, 8000 feet above the sea level," said Fairbanks, "but by the exercise of patience we secured some excellent views. It was the ambition of the photographic staff to show the details of the canyon, as well as its giant like vastness, and they were compelled to wait hours, at times, for perfect lighting conditions."

Fairbanks is of an enthusiastic nature, and to hear him describe this trip one would imagine the acrobatic comedian was trying to impersonate Burton Holmes.

"A Modern Musketeer" is the story of a modern young man who possesses the reincarnated spirit of the famous Dumas hero. His gallantry is not undiminished by twentieth century maidens who have been fed with newspaper stories of the dangers of "white slavers," and his chivalrous attempts to assist females in distress often lead him into hot water. This does not deter him from preferring his aid whenever an opportunity presents, nor dampen his arduous spirit.

His valor does not go unrewarded, however, for he finally wins a bride after he rescues her from the hands of a Navajo Indian who has kidnapped her and intends to make her his squaw.

'PANTS' CAPTURES PICTURE WORLD

Have you seen "Pants"? It is the best "kid" picture on the market. Not only do the critics, both of the newspapers and trade journals, say this, "Pants" combines two of the rarest qualities to be found in pictures: qualities that go to make up the ideal drawing card. While the picture, because of its 6-year-old star, is a children's attraction, essentially, still it unfolds a dramatic story that is of especial appeal to grown-ups, particularly mothers and fathers. Everybody likes it.

Little Mary McAllister, who has won national esteem in her tenuous emotional role of Doris Strickland in "On Trial," and has captured millions of admirers in her later series, "Do Children Count," has put a character on the screen in "Pants" that is even more popular. Her role is that of a rich little girl who seeks the freedom enjoyed by the children of the ghetto. To get it, she runs away and makes her home in the tenement district, disguised as a boy.

GRANDMOTHER KNEW

There Was Nothing So Good for Congestion and Colds as Mustard

But the old-fashioned mustard-plaster burned and blistered while it acted. Get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

Mustard does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders, and yet does not blister the tenderest skin.

Just massage Musterole in with the finger tips gently. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears. Use Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, colds, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). 30c and 60c jars, hospital size $2.50.

STEAMER FIGHTS OFF SUBMARINE

Naval Gun Crew Battles U-Boat Until Destroyer Comes to Rescue.

"NEVER" SURRENDER

Gallant Seamen Flash Back Reply to Defender's "Don't Surrender."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—How the naval gun crew of the American steamer J. L. Luckenbach successfully fought off for four hours the attacks of a German submarine until a destroyer racing the steamer's rescue forced the U-boat to submerge, was told today in an official statement by the navy department.

The engagement took place in October, 1917, while the vessel was enroute to a French port. The U-boat subjected the merchant craft to a heavy gunfire that injured several men and started a small blaze aboard and temporary put the engines out of commission.

"Don't surrender," flashed the commander of the American destroyer that caught the Luckenbach's distress call. "Never," was the laconic reply.

All the members of the gun crew have been commended by the navy department for gallantry in action and the commander has been given the temporary warrant of boatswain in recognition of his services.

FREMANTLE BECOMES NEW DEPUTY CHIEF

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The new admiralty board is announced officially. There is nothing sensational or dramatic about the list of names and only one naval member of the board was not serving at the admiralty when Admiral Sir John R. Jellicoe was the head. He is Rear Admiral Sydney R. Fremantle, who becomes deputy chief of staff to Vice Admiral Sir Rosslyn Wemyss, a new first sea lord.

Archibald S. Hurd, the naval critic, in commenting on the new board, says it is apparent that no revolutionary disturbance of the main lines of naval policy is indicated.

ARGENTINE PAPERS OPPOSE EXTENSIONS

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 12.—A number of Argentine newspapers consider that the extension of the German barred zone to include the trade routes between South America and Europe is an unfriendly act toward this country. The papers renew their demands that the government sever relations with Germany.

Extension of the submarine barred zone to include the Cape Verde islands, the island of Madeira and part of French Senegal around Dakar was announced in a German wireless statement received in London January 8. It was declared that the new regulations would become effective January 11. Late in November the barred zone was extended around the Azores, which, with the Cape Verde islands and Madeira are on the principal steamship paths between South America and Europe.

BRITISH SUCCESSFUL RAID

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Early this morning our troops successfully raided the enemy's trenches east of Loos, capturing a few prisoners, the war office announced. "There is nothing further to report."

SENATOR BRADY SINKING RAPIDLY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Hopes for the recovery of Senator Brady of Idaho, who suffered an attack of acute heart trouble Thursday night, were abandoned today by his physicians, who said his death was imminent. The senator rallied last night and appeared to be much better but a setback came early today and he began to sink.

TELLS AN UNTOLD STORY OF ALASKA

And after all these years, it takes a photograph to tell the truth about the gold rush to Alaska. It wasn't a rush after all, it was a slow, tedious, dragging process, in which men were lucky if they made a mile a day, and in which he who fell by the roadside was lost. Such is the atmosphere of "The Great White Trail," which comes to the Utah theater Sunday and Monday, and in which Doris Kenyon, the youthful star of "The Empress," and "The Great White Trail" plays the biggest role of her photography career.

Practically all the settings of "The Great White Trail" are in the ice bound stretches of the Arctic, and sometimes the actors were forced to work in snow that ranged from two to ten feet in depth. But happily there were plenty of snowshoes.

METHODIST CHURCH TO FLY A SERVICE FLAG

Mrs. Lillabelle Falck makes and presented to the Methodist Episcopal church a service flag having 22 stars upon it, this being the contribution of the local Methodist Episcopal church in men in this present world war. A card accompanying the flag states:

"This flag is to fly in the Ogden breezes in honor of our boys in national service and to make known to passers-by the loyalty of the Methodist church."

The M. R. J. class of the Sunday school has also purchased a service flag to hang inside the church and the presentation services will be held during the morning service tomorrow.

Should any of our boys fall in this conflict, the flag will not be draped in mourning, but the star will be gilded in line with the Old Testament prophecy:

"They shall shine as the brightness of the firmament and as the stars, forever and forever."

Three more boys of the church have enlisted since the first estimate was made.

SECOND COMING SEEN IN THE WORLD'S AWFUL WAR

A new and more awful trend to the thought of the war was added last week by the united churches of England and Scotland in the publishing of a manifesto signed by the leaders of one trend of the religious faith. This manifesto declared that the great hope of the church, as the second coming of the Christ is called, is just at hand. The startling thing about it was the thoughtful and learned men of many denominations who signed it. This manifesto is now the central theme of religious discussion everywhere. Is the end of the world at hand? Is the end of the rule of the trends of strife at hand? The coming of the Christ would mean one of these. Just what the various writers mean by the coming of the Christ and the prophecies concerning it, with the reasons for both doubting and believing that the Christ is about to reappear, will be the theme of the sermon in First Presbyterian church Sunday night. Robert Greenwell will sing three solos at this service.

The evening music will be:
Prelude, "Evening Star," Wagner
Miss Louise Pierce.
Baritone solo, "My King," Granier
"Rock of Ages," Topliff
Mr. Robert Greenwell.
Offertory, "The Shepherd," Chopin
Miss Louise Pierce.
Baritone solo:
"Angels are Telling," Dykes
Mr. Robert Greenwell.
Postlude, "The Shepherd," Mozart
Miss Louise Pierce.

VON TIRPITZ WANTS TO KEEP FLANDERS

LONDON, Jan. 12.—A dispatch to the Central News from Amsterdam says that Admiral von Tirpitz, former German minister of marine and the foremost advocate of Germany's submarine warfare, declared that while the Germans must keep the Flanders coast, the annexation of Belgium to Germany was not necessary and that a solution of this problem could be found.

Regarding the political situation Admiral von Tirpitz is quoted as having said that all sorts of things might be possible but that he did not think they would go so far as an agreement on an armistice by which the operations of submarines could be paralyzed.

INCOME TAX ON THE TWO VALUES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The internal revenue bureau decided today to require income tax returns on two bases—original cost and present market value of goods for security. The tax will be collected later in the light of the supreme court's decision in a pending case. Millions of dollars in taxes are dependent on the disputed point.

New Food Rules

We desire to call our customers' attention to the new food regulations regarding the sales of sugar and flour, for the United States food administration has asked that not more than 10 pounds of sugar be sold to customers in the city and not more than 25 pounds to people living outside the city. On flour, the request is that only one sack be delivered in the city, not more than two to outside customers. In this regard, as in all others affecting government regulations, we are following those requests.

To those who desire a strong, well flavored coffee we recommend our Fancy Peabody at 29c a pound. You will find this coffee is very satisfactory.
